YAXXA

YAXXA upgrades their business phone system with HoduPBX, overcomes operational issues

HoduSoft provided YAXXA, a unified communication solution provider, with its IP PBX product, HoduPBX, which resolved their challenges with customer management on multiple servers, application stability and scalability, billing discrepancies, and auto-provisioning of phones. The solution also offered a multi-tenant system that efficiently manages multiple customers on a single server and improved scalability and stability, allowing management of more than 10,000 extensions and over 1,000 concurrent calls on a single server. The CRM was integrated through APIs, and the Click-to-call facility within the system provided a more straightforward process for the extensions to assist customers quickly.
